EVENT DETAILS

2024 Outbound Trade Mission to Japan

With a population exceeding 123 million and boasting the fourth-largest GDP globally, Japan maintains its position as the fourth-largest export market for U.S. food and agricultural products as of 2022. Facilitated by the U.S.-Japan Trade Agreement (USJFTA) enacted in January 2020, this agreement offers preferential access to premium American goods, rendering them particularly appealing to Japanese importers and distributors. Japan's reliance on food imports, stemming from its limited domestic resources, coupled with its advanced and innovative food industries, underscores its receptivity to emerging Western food trends and products. Notably, the market consistently demonstrates sustained demand for safe, wholesome, and high-caliber foods.

This presents an exceptional opportunity for both companies entering the market for the first time and those seeking to broaden their presence. Seize this advantageous occasion to establish connections with new buyers in Japan!

- Meet one-on-one with Japanese buyers: This offers a great opportunity to understand their specific needs and preferences, as well as to showcase the quality of U.S. products.
